

The key to an organisation's effective promotion and development is a robust communications strategy. Not every organisation can afford full time, experienced communications managers to produce and implement communications strategies. Radar PR can assess your current systems, identify areas of opportunity and support you in managing the implementation.

Radar PR staff have written successful communications strategies for a range of voluntary sector organisations including Derby CVS and Nottingham Community Network, with an annual budget of over £1m.

